LPU Celebrates Students' Participation in Paris Olympics 2024

LPU is filled with pride as 24 of our students represent India in the Paris Olympics 2024. This outstanding achievement makes up 21% of the Indian contingent, placing LPU second only to Stanford University, USA, in student representation.

Dr. Ashok Kumar Mittal Nominated to Prestigious SPA Council

Hon'ble Chancellor Dr. Ashok Kumar Mittal has been nominated to the prestigious Council of Schools of Planning and Architecture (SPA) by the Hon'ble Vice President of India. This significant appointment, endorsed by the Chairman of Rajya Sabha, Shri Jagdeep Dhankhar, recognizes Dr. Mittal's dedication to advancing education, planning, and architecture in India.

Celebrating Our Olympians: A Grand Tribute at LPU on National Sports Day 2024!

In a landmark celebration of athletic excellence, Lovely Professional University (LPU) hosted a spectacular honoring ceremony on National Sports Day 2024, paying tribute to India's Paris Olympics representatives. The event was a fusion of tradition, pride, and admiration, with a generous tribute of Rs 2.5 crore bestowed upon our Olympic athletes, including wrestling sensation Vinesh Phogat and the stellar Indian Men's Hockey Team.

At the heart of the celebration was Vinesh Phogat, whose indomitable spirit and unmatched skill earned her the title of "Balali ki Jwalamukhi." Her journey from the wrestling pits to the global Olympic stage has been nothing short of extraordinary. LPU honored her as not only a sporting icon but an inspiration for generations to come. To further her legacy, LPU pledged to sponsor 100 aspiring female athletes, promoting gender equality in sports.

The LPU Family gathered in full force to welcome and celebrate India's Olympians, who brought glory to the nation at the Paris Olympics. With Rs 2.5 crore in cash prizes awarded to honor their achievements, this National Sports Day became a truly unforgettable occasion.

The spotlight of the event was firmly on Vinesh Phogat, hailed as the 'Balali ki Jwalamukhi' for her fiery spirit and wrestling prowess. LPU proudly announced its support for 100 promising female athletes in her name and added a chapter on her journey to the LPU curriculum, inspiring countless students.

The celebration reached its peak as Olympians were welcomed by open-top bus parades, with crowds cheering on their heroes. The day was further enriched with stunning cultural performances, showcasing the unity of art and sport, along with a mesmerizing display by the NCC, capturing the essence of discipline and patriotism.

This National Sports Day at LPU radiated the spirit of sportsmanship, excellence, and pride, as a billion Indians beamed with joy! Relive the magic and witness how LPU continues to foster a culture of success in sports.

LPU Students Make History at the Paris Olympics 2024 with Indian Hockey Team's Victory Over Australia!

In a moment of immense pride and celebration, eight students from Lovely Professional University (LPU) have made history by being part of the Indian Men's Hockey Team that secured a thrilling 3-2 victory against Australia at the Paris Olympics 2024. This remarkable win not only guaranteed India a place in the quarterfinals but also marked a significant milestone, as India defeated Australia in the Olympics for the first time in 52 years. Two LPU students played a pivotal role in this victory by scoring crucial goals, demonstrating their exceptional skills and determination on the global stage. The entire university community is beaming with pride as these young athletes have showcased their talent and brought honour to both India and LPU.

Neeraj Chopra Wins Silver at Paris Olympics 2024 – A Proud Moment for India and LPU!

Congratulations to the entire LPU Family and the nation! India's Golden Boy and Olympian Neeraj Chopra has once again made history by winning the Silver Medal in Javelin Throw at the iconic Paris Olympics 2024. His exceptional performance at this prestigious event adds another feather to his illustrious cap, following his Gold Medal victory in the Tokyo Olympics 2020.

Neeraj's remarkable achievement marks his second Olympic triumph in the Men's Javelin Throw, solidifying his status as one of the greatest athletes in India's sporting history. His incredible journey from Tokyo to Paris has been nothing short of inspirational, and this latest accomplishment has brought immense pride and joy to 1.44 billion Indian hearts.

A Heartfelt Message to Vinesh Phogat from Her LPU Family

Dear Vinesh Phogat,
You have shown the world what it means to be a true fighter, both on and off the mat. A few grams, adversity, injury, and technicalities cannot take you down when your alma mater, LPU, and 1.44 billion Indians are standing proudly behind you. Your strength, perseverance, and determination are an inspiration to us all.

You are not just an Olympic

Vinesh Phogat: A Champion of Perseverance, Strength, and Legacy

Indian wrestler Vinesh Phogat, a symbol of resilience and courage, announced her retirement from wrestling following a heartbreaking disqualification from the Paris Olympics 2024. While her Olympic dream may not have come to fruition, her journey to this point is nothing short of legendary.

A day before, Vinesh Phogat stood hours away from clinching a medal at the Paris Olympics 2024, poised to make history once again.

However, the news of her disqualification for being 100 grams overweight in the women's 50 kg category sent shockwaves through the Indian sporting community and broke the hearts of 1.4 billion Indians.

Despite the crushing outcome, Phogat's relentless efforts in the lead-up to the match reflect the heart of a true champion. Reports emerged of her sleepless night spent jogging, skipping, cycling, and even cutting her hair in a determined attempt to shed the few extra grams. Alongside her coaches and support staff, Phogat left no stone unturned in her quest to make weight. Her tireless dedication and fight to the very end embody the essence of her incredible career.

As the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) shared the difficult news, Chief Medical Officer Dr. Dinshaw Pardiwala clarified that Vinesh Phogat was physically and medically fit, but despite her best efforts, her weight fluctuated after three intense bouts. The wrestling world will forever remember Phogat's unparalleled grit, especially in her awe-inspiring journey at the Paris Olympics.

Just days before, Phogat delivered one of the most memorable performances of her career. In an extraordinary show of strength, she triumphed over reigning Olympic Champion and four-time World Champion Yui Susaki of Japan in the opening round of the Paris Olympics. Her victory was a historic moment, as she became the first Indian woman wrestler to defeat the Japanese legend. Vinesh's fierce determination continued as she claimed victories over Ukraine's former European champion Oksana Livach and Cuba's Yusneylis Guzman Lopez, cementing her place as the first Indian woman wrestler to reach the final of the Olympic Games.

Her courage and determination extended far beyond the wrestling mat. In the months leading up to the Olympics, Phogat became a beacon of hope for women wrestlers in India, as she led an 18-month-long protest against the alleged sexual harassment of women wrestlers by the former president of the Wrestling Federation of India, Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh. Her unwavering commitment to justice showcased the true strength of her character, as she fought not only for her own rights but also for the dignity and respect of her fellow athletes.

Despite the obstacles in her path, Phogat never wavered in her dream of winning Olympic gold. Even after returning her Khel Ratna Award to the government in protest, she held her head high, with her eyes set on the ultimate prize. Though the result was not what she hoped for, Vinesh Phogat's career is a testament to the power of perseverance and the indomitable spirit of a champion.

LPU Celebrates Independence Day with a Melodious Performance by Swaraag Band

It was an incredible Independence Day celebration at LPU as our LPU Family enjoyed a captivating patriotic musical performance by the amazing Swaraag Band!
